GoodVision

The problem : A global undersupply of glasses

According to a WHO study, around 950 million people around the world need glasses, but cannot afford them. The consequences: children and young people cannot learn, adults cannot work and care for their families.

The solution

The GoodVisionGlasses are manufactured using a simple bending machine and consist of a lightweight, flexible and stable spring steel frame and pre-cut plastic lenses.

The glasses are adapted and sold directly on site. With the unique click system, patients can immediately take their customized glasses with them.

Our projects worldwide

We are currently active in eight project countries and have already sold over 260,000 pairs of glasses globally.
